

Variorum

ISSN 0976-9714

Multi-disciplinary International e-Research journal

General Instructions:

- Variorum is complete e-research journal
- Publication, Editing and Contributions by Publishers, Authors and Co-authors are on an Honorary basis
- The papers submitted is the original work of the authors and the same has not been sent or published to/by any journal or magazine or online portal or academic forum.
- Opinion expressed in the research article are the views/policies/perceptions /findings of the authors and in no way does the journal subscribe to the views expressed by the author/s. The author/s are solely responsible for the data analysis and conclusions cited.
- This journal publishes research papers and articles of all disciplines and hence multi-disciplinary.
- Research articles will be regularly published on first day of January, April July, and October of each year.
- Articles or Research paper will be accepted prior one month of publication.
- Only one article/paper per author/s will be accepted in a given year for publication.
- The paper/article will be published in the given format and after positive report from peer-reviewers.
- The author of the paper will be solely responsible for Originality and any facts and findings stated.
- In case of any legal dispute jurisdiction will be in Thane court (Maharashtra, India) only.
- Translation of previously published paper is not permitted.
- If article is based upon prior work, proper reference of the publication needs to be given with proper citation